

EuroMed Inc. Plans Relocation to New York

EuroMed Inc. currently located in Northvale, N.J., will be relocating to Orangeburg, N.Y.

For Immediate Release

WHITEHOUSE, N.J./EWorldWire/June 19, 2007 --- EuroMed Inc., a leading designer and manufacturer of wound care management products, announces its relocation to a larger facility in New York. EuroMed will move from its current manufacturing facility in Northvale, N.J. to a 38,000 square foot facility at 25 Corporate Drive, Orangeburg, N.Y. The move will allow EuroMed to expand production of its wound care, ostomy barrier and incontinence products, including its new award-winning SureSkin(R) I.V. Hydrocolloid Dressing, a sterile dressing that is designed to help protect peripheral intravenous and central catheter insertion sites and assist in securing catheters in place.

According to Jarl Jensen, president of EuroMed, the size of this new facility will not only increase our production capability, but it will also enable EuroMed to enhance the company's ability to better serve its clients on a global level. This new facility also provides EuroMed with the space needed to interact with customers more proactively, whether it is to discuss new product ideas, conduct educational programs or work on opportunities to improve customer service. Jensen expects this to "strengthen EuroMed's customer relationships and add value to every customer transaction."

This will be the company's first major move since entering the US marketplace in 1996, and it is expected to be completed by mid-summer. It is anticipated that EuroMed's R&D and manufacturing divisions will grow substantially, and that EuroMed's current 94-person staff also will grow as EuroMed broadens its market and expands its core competencies to other technologies.

EuroMed was recently designated as a participant in the New York State Empire Zone project, which was created to stimulate economic growth through a variety of state tax incentives designed to attract new businesses to New York State. "We are so pleased with our new location and the space it will provide," explains Jensen, "and equally happy to contribute to stimulating economic growth in New York by expanding our business and creating new jobs."

Founded in 1991, EuroMed, Inc. designs and manufactures high quality hydrocolloid adhesive wound management, ostomy and incontinence products for top brand medical device marketers and distributors worldwide on a contract, private label and co-marketing basis. The company's in-house services include research, design, development, manufacturing and distribution services to a global clientele. Millions of EuroMed products have been used around the world in hospitals, healthcare facilities, and home care situations.

EuroMed is an ISO13485:2003 certified and FDA registered medical device manufacturer.
